G’day, Australia

Written by Arthur Bullock

Join Arthur as he flies to Sydney, Australia to see kangaroos and many more including the Sydney Opera House.

Arthur Bullock flies from Virginia to Australia and its capital Sydney.
Arthur goes to the Taronga zoo to see some kangaroos, koalas, and different animals around the zoo.
Arthur becomes a lifeguard for the first time here at Bondi Beach. He then publishes his work here at the Art Gallery of New South Wales.
Arthur then went to the Sydney

Cricket Stadium to play football with the pros. At the Heathcote National Park, he saw charcoal drawings of kangaroos. One night later, Arthur got staged at the Sydney Opera House to put his latest plays on. A day after, Arthur went to the airport to fly back to America. Arthur will go back on another adventure until next time. Next time, Arthur flies to New Zealand, Africa, China, and Greece.
